Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 26 Dec 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloudy and largely dry overnight, with mist and fog patches.

This Evening and Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain should have cleared northeastwards by this evening to leave a largely dry night. However, there will be a lot of extensive low cloud, with some mist and fog patches forming in places. Light winds. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Monday:
Further rain and freshening winds will spread east through the morning, some heavy, giving a wet afternoon and evening. Remaining mild. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday, rather cloudy with some showers, drier later. Dry start Wednesday, then a spell of heavy rain, becoming windy but milder. Thursday, windy but very mild, some further rain likely.
